

Parent Involvement Survey

Parent Instructions

The Arizona Department of Education, Exceptional Student Services, and our local schools value having families take part in the special education process. We believe that state and local activities that build family and school partnerships lead to improved outcomes for students.

This survey asks for your ideas about how your family has taken part in special education. Listed below are instructions for the easy-to-complete, short online survey. Please take a few minutes to answer questions about how your school has helped you to take part in this process as a way to improve special education services and your child's school results.
